

Shipping policy

We are a New Zealand based company and ship within New Zealand.

We will ship your order out as soon as possible once it has been received. Most of our items are made to order, so please allow up to 14 working days for your items. If your order is time sensitive, please get in touch via email and we will do our best to accommodate you.

Once your parcel has been shipped, you will receive an email notification with a tracking number. All parcels are sent by tracked courier and will arrive 1-2 days after dispatch, provided there are no shipping delays.

Our shipping costs include packaging to protect your goods.

Thank you for your support!
